Digitizing University with Stephen Wilson VIDEO & WORKBOOK

Digitizing University is for beginners and professionals alike. If you joined us for “The Art of Digitizing” in 2014, this is something brand new! Learn a new approach to important foundational techniques, as well as insight on the new and more challenging digitizing techniques we use at Anita Goodesign every day.

Learn digitizing techniques and concepts through new artwork as Stephen breaks down the anatomy of the design. You will also receive a workbook full of information, instruction, and insights all of which will come together to make digitizing and embroidery more fun and easier than ever before. Through this lecture based course, Stephen will demonstrate how to use these techniques using any digitizing program.

The Digitizing University video series and workbook will be available to pre-order until August 17th for only A$330! It will be available after the event for the retail price of A$660.

Product will ship as soon as it is available.
